Below are the correct answers, which are shown in red. The forms of some verbs have changed from how they appeared in the box.

1. Last week's scandal shocked the whole of the business community. In the aftermath of the scandal, it is very clear to see that the company's reputation has been badly tarnished. It will be very interesting to see how the company overcomes / will overcome this very major setback.
2. When deciding on a career to pursue, it is a good idea to draw inspiration from people who appear to be successful and also very fulfilled in their chosen field. Taking time to weigh up your options carefully will certainly pay off. Someone who believes that they are on the right path will certainly be more driven to succeed. For someone who is not happy in their chosen career, it can be very difficult to go back to the drawing board and find another one.
3. If you have any questions during the presentation, feel free to ask me at the end. I will leave 10 minutes for questions, and I will strive to answer all of them.
