Below are the correct answers, which are shown in red. The forms of some verbs have changed from how they appeared in the box.

1. Despite the fact that our economy is in turmoil, investors haven't been put off by all the bad news in the media. Thanks to the trust that investors have shown in us, we have been able to obtain over $3 million to drive forward our next fintech project.
2. As an investment fund, we aim to foster a strong sense of trust among those who invest their hard-earned money with us. We ensure that we adhere to all market regulations, and we pride ourselves on transparency regarding the investments that we make.
3. We have covered a lot of topics in today's meeting, and I understand that there is a lot to take in, so I will quickly recap all the key takeaways, and then feel free to ask any questions that you have before we wrap things up.
