Hospital Trip

Last winter I had a big accident . I was walking on an icy road when I suddenly fell and broke my leg. Thankfully, my friend was with me and he called to the emergency services immediately. If my friend wasn't there, it would have been a big problem because the streets were completely empty and there was no-one around. The ambulance took 30 minutes to arrive due to they were very busy.

When the ambulance arrived, they immediately gave me painkillers and said me that my leg was broken in 3 places. I was taking immediately to an operating theatre where they fixed my leg. I have stayed in the hospital for 2 weeks before being sent back home. Since the incident I avoided to walk on any icy roads!
