Pepper X: Eating The world's hottest pepper was euphoric, says its creator Ed Currie

Ed Currie is completely obsessed with peppers. He is even starting every morning with "pepper oil" in his coffee.

After taste-test peppers and hot sauces all day for his South Carolina Pepper Company, he adds peppers or hot sauce to his dinner every night. His favourite pepper to cook with is the "chocolate scotch bonnet" despite it is not his own creation. "I eat peppers all day long," he said.

"If I will eat the right kind of dessert, I tend to put something hot on sweet food as well."

Earlier this week, Ed Currie's latest creation, Pepper X, was officially recognizing as the world's hottest pepper by Guinness World Records. When he has tasted it for the first time at the World Record ceremony last week, the pepper caused him to be completely overwhelming with pain for four hours.

Since Pepper X went on sale for the first time, Ed Curry is warning people to be very careful when they eat it!
